MEET TO NAME HOUSE OFFICERS

Ohio Republican Representatives-Elect Hold Caucus.

CONTEST ON FOR SPEAKERSHIP

Silver of Preble County and Rohe of Seneca County Appear to Be the Leading Candidates—Taft Boomed for the Floor Leadership—Contest For Sergeant-at-Arms Is Also in Prospect.

Columbus, Dec. 17.—Republican members of the Ohio house of representatives are holding their caucus here this afternoon for the purpose of effecting organization of the house.

Few changes in the lineup of candidates for the important posts in the incoming house are noted. Representatives Robert L. Rohe of Seneca county and Harry D. Silver of Preble county continued to be the leading candidates for speaker. Others in the race are Gilbert H. Morgan of Cuyahoga county and Rev. J. H. Gordon of Logan county. Allen C. McDonald of Montgomery county, the fifth candidate, may withdraw in favor of Silver, it is said.

Disposition of many of the patronage posts will be made at the caucus, although a number of positions will be left vacant until the house convenes, Jan. 5.

A compromise move to give Rohe the floor leadership was apparent today, but lacked the enthusiastic support of Rohe himself. The Seneca county newspaper man contended his chances for speakership were still bright, and that until he was defeated he would not consider any other post.

The active aspirants for the floor leadership were Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati and Justin Harding of Warren county. As between the two, Taft would almost be certain of an easy victory. He said he had a sufficient number of votes to assure his election, but observers were not certain his forecast would be born out today. In the past, the speakership problem usually has been solved by making one of the leading contenders floor leader. Entrance of Taft and Harding into the race, of course, complicates this move. Taft's chances, it was said, have been hurt through the selection of Joseph R. Gardner as president pro tem of the senate. Gardner also is from Cincinnati, and in political circles it is usually considered advisable to divide the plums geographically.

Captain John P. Maynard of Lima is certain to be re-elected clerk of the house. He is a veteran at the job, and admittedly an efficient officer. The clerical force, in the main, will be retained. Edward W. Hughes of Columbus is slated for another term as parliamentary.

A contest for sergeant-at-arms is in prospect. Dr. Alfred E. Robinson of Ironton claims re-election. His only opponent is J. D. Thomas of Columbus, who is slated to get a secondary position if he fails to land the principal prize.

House Democrats will caucus tomorrow for the purpose of naming a shepherd for the score of minority representatives. The leadership fight is between Judge T. W. Orr of Wayne county and Minor K. Johnston of Richland county, with chances favoring Orr.

The committee on committees and committee on patronage of the senate are expected to meet Thursday to dispose of the remainder of senate patronage and allot the committees for the new session, subject to the ratification of the upper house in January.

HERE AND THERE

Dorothy Stothart, wife of Herbert Stothart, composer of the music for "Rose Marie" and other successes, committed suicide at New York by taking poison.

Professor W. H. Carruth, 65, professor emeritus of English at Leland Stanford and educator of national prominence, died at Palo Alto, Cal.

Harry Merrill, negro, alleged slayer of Warden Dryden of the Somerset Jail, was captured at Princess Anne, Maryland.

Bandits shot and killed Florence Fox, 61, in an attempted robbery of a gasoline station near Pittsburgh.

Masked men broke into General Hospital at Nashville, Tenn., covered attendants with shotguns and carried away Samuel Smith, 15-year-old negro boy, who was hanged to a tree and his body riddled with bullets. The negro had been placed in the hospital after he was wounded in an attempt to hold up a groceryman. The boy rounded the grocer.

LEAVES FOR HOME

Gibson, Prohibition Agent, Urges Probe of Dykeman's Activities.

Cleveland, Dec. 17.—H. C. Gibson, spokesman for anti-Dykeman prohibition agents here, left for his home in Westerville, O., after writing another letter reiterating his demand for an investigation. The letter was sent to Prohibition Commissioner Haynes. It demanded a probe of the activities of Henry A. Dykeman, divisional prohibition chief of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Haynes had previously refused to entertain charges against Dykeman after Gibson, T. B. Williams of Delaware, O., and Fred Snyder of Springfield, O., had made a special trip to Washington. Haynes has called the affair a closed incident. The charges grew out of an order transferring the three assistants to another district. Dykeman said he had no comment other than that his report was on file in Washington.

VALUE OF 1924 CROPS
$9,400,000,000

Estimate Made by the Department of Agriculture.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The department of agriculture placed the value of this year's harvest of important farm crops, the highest priced in five years, at $9,479,902,000. Better prices than last year placed the value $753,013,000 higher than last year, when the total, as revised, was $8,726,889,000, and $1,663,882,000 higher than in 1922, when they aggregated $7,816,020,000. The combined acreage of the principal farm crops was smaller this year than last, there having been a total of 355,220,455 acres, as compared with 355,954,730 in 1923.

Corn maintained its rank as king of crops, and although production was 600,000,000 less than last year, its value was $188,000,000 more than the 1923 crop. The total value of corn was placed at $2,405,468,000. Cotton ranked second with a total value of $1,683,274,000, of which $1,487,225,000 was the value of lint and $196,049,000 the value of seed. Hay, with a total value for tame and wild of $1,467,648,000, was third in point of income. Wheat ranked fourth, with a total value for spring and winter of $1,136,596,000.

Gompers' Remains in New York. New York, Dec. 17.—The body of Samuel Gompers arrived here over the Baltimore and Ohio from Washington this morning and was met by a composite battalion, representing the army, the navy and the national guard. The casket was placed on an artillery caisson and with its military escort and a delegation of labor officials proceeded to the Elks' club. There it will lie in state until the funeral services begin at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Masonic services at the grave in Sleepy Hollow cemetery, at Tarrytown, will be conducted by the Very Rev. Oscar F. R. Treder, chaplain of the Grand lodge of the state of New York.

SMITH PROPOSAL DEFEATED

Senate Favors Private Operation of Muscle Shoals.

UNDERWOOD BILL HAS CALL

Filibuster Prevents Senate's Adoption of the Postal Salaries Increase Measure Over the President's Veto. Parliamentary Situation Automatically Defeats the Advocates of the Bill—Washington Affairs.

Washington, Dec. 17.—By a vote of 49 to 32, the senate went on record as favoring private operation of Muscle Shoals.

The Smith amendment, which would have stricken out of the Underwood bill all of the leasing clauses, leaving only the government operation section, was defeated. Before the vote was taken Senator Underwood (Dem., Ala.), author of the bill, informed the senate that he wished the vote to be regarded as a definite expression of the senate on whether it wished to have Muscle Shoals operated by a government or private corporation.

The Underwood bill would authorize the secretary of war to lease Muscle Shoals for the production of nitrogen for fertilizer and ammonium, but if a suitable lease could not be obtained by Sept. 1 it would provide for government operation.

A filibuster prevented the adoption by the senate of the postal salaries increase bill over President Coolidge's veto.

Led by Senator Sterling (Rep., S. D.), the filibuster prevented a vote being taken when advocates of the measure had gathered enough votes to be near the two-thirds majority necessary for the adoption of the bill over the veto. Despite the efforts of Senator Ashurst of Arizona and several other Democrats, Sterling succeeded in keeping the floor for nearly two hours until the parliamentary situation automatically defeated the advocates of the bill.

Introduction of the new postal bill, raising second-class rates to pay increased salaries to postal employees, started the filibuster. Senator Ashurst (Dem., Ariz.), refusing to grant the bill the courtesy of being referred to committee, moved to take up the veto message of President Coolidge on the postal increase bill, which was adopted at the last session of congress. His motion was held in order by President Pro Tem Cummins.

Democrats in favor of overriding the president's veto demanded that a vote be taken, but Republican leaders forced a temporary delay with a demand for a quorum call.

Ashurst charged that Senator Sterling, who introduced the bill, was attempting to defeat ultimate adoption of a salary increase bill by tacking on the provisions for raising revenue.

Sterling then moved that the veto message be referred to the postoffice committee and declared he wanted "to be heard." By talking for the remaining two hours he prevented a vote. Under a unanimous consent agreement already made, the senate at that time had to vote on the Smith amendment to the Muscle Shoals bill.

The house before it the naval appropriation bill, carrying nearly $300,000,000 for naval activities and construction already authorized by law.

The first two weeks of the session show two supply bills, those of the interior and agricultural departments, passed by the house. Drafting of a fourth measure, carrying appropriations for both the treasury and post-office department, has nearly been completed and it probably will be reported before the end of the week.

PROBING FATAL BLAZE

Harlem Tenement Destroyed by Fire of Suspicious Origin.

New York, Dec. 17.—Authorities are probing a fire of suspicious origin that swept a Harlem tenement with a loss of six lives. Survivors of 10 families were driven to the streets in near zero weather. Patients in Mt. Sinai hospital, nearby, alarmed by the glare of the fire, were quieted by prompt action of nurses and doctors. Those who escaped from the roaring inferno, into which the flames quickly converted the five-story tenement, reported the fire seemed to have started under the front stairs. Only one of the six victims was identified. He was Edward Russell, 64, who was driven from a window by flames and fell to the street to his death. Three women are among the unidentified victims, the other two being so badly burned it was at first impossible to determine the sex.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Favors Gasoline Tax.

Columbus, Dec. 17.—Stating that the majority of motor owners are willing to pay for good roads, John E. McCrehen of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards challenged the value of the warning issued by President Caley of the Ohio State Automobile association against a proposed gasoline tax. "The gasoline tax is the only fair and equitable manner to tax motor vehicles," McCrehen said.

Missing Prisoner Found.

Columbus, Dec. 17.—Peter Forthofer, Cleveland auto thief, was discovered by guards after he had successfully remained hidden within the walls of Ohio penitentiary for 22 hours. Forthofer, who has still 14 years of a 15-year sentence to serve, had wrapped himself from head to foot in raw wool. Encased thus, he had lain in a corner of the woolen mills of the prison.

Ban on Ohio Chickens.

Cleveland, Dec. 17.—New York placed an embargo on shipments of chickens from Ohio, local dealers announced they had been notified, bringing the list of states affected by the action to nine. The embargo was extended to Ohio by reason of the appearance of a poultry disease among chickens shipped into New York from middle western states.

Mysterious Shooting.

Urbana, O., Dec. 17.—Guy Tuffing, 16, of North Lewisburg, is in the Champaign county hospital in a serious condition from a mysterious shooting at his home. According to the boy's father, the lad was at work in a barn at dusk, when he ran to the house screaming that he had been shot. His left arm was badly mangled by buckshot.

Attacked by Bear.

Toledo, Dec. 17.—While raiding a residence here, four members of the police dry squad were attacked by a bear. Their clothes torn, they fled the premises. William Jacobs later was arrested on the charge of possessing liquor. The bear had been used for circus purposes, he said.

Layport to Captain Wooster.

Wooster, O., Dec. 17.—Thomas "Mose" Layport of Loveland, O., was elected captain of Wooster college football team for 1925. Layport is a graduate of East high school, Cincinnati, and the fourth Layport to play for Wooster.

Denied New Trial.

St. Clairsville, O., Dec. 17.—Judge Warren W. Cowen, denied Kondrat Gwozdenkow, 38, convicted to die in the electric chair May 16, a new trial. Gwozdenkow was convicted of killing Anna Kusdof, 7, at Dilles last summer.

Woman Fatally Burned.

Warren, O., Dec. 17.—James W. Evans, 54, died from burns received when her clothing caught fire, following an explosion of solder, which she was using to repair a fan in her home.

Woman Killed.

Cincinnati, Dec. 17.—Mrs. Anna Saunders, 52, was run down when she stepped into the path of a truck and killed almost instantly.

Against Naval Inquiry.

Washington, Dec. 17.—With respect to the American navy the administration viewpoint was again defined as looking toward a navy adequate for the defense of the country without respect to steps taken by other nations. These views as expressed at the white house were supplemented by the statement that the president regards as unnecessary any congressional inquiry into the state of the nation's navy.

UNIFORM TRAFFIC CODE DRAWN UP

Safety Conference Discussing Details of Proposal.

WOULD LESSEN MISHAP TOLL

Elimination of All Grade Crossings Held the Only Solution of the Problem—Vigorous Prosecution of Reckless Drivers and Safety Education in the Public Schools Recommended—Other Features of Code.

Washington, Dec. 17.—An agreement on the major points of a uniform traffic code for states and cities has been reached by the national conference on streets and highway safety and discussion is now being confined to details.

Provisions of the proposed traffic code included the following:

Elimination of all grade crossings as "the only perfect solution for this serious problem."

Licensing of all drivers after examination into mental and physical fitness of applicant's ability to operate an automobile.

Safety education in the public schools.

Segregation of all streetcar, motor truck and passenger automobiles on different thoroughfares in congested districts.

"Vigorous and unceasing prosecution" of reckless driving and other disregard for rights of others by users of the streets.

State laws requiring the reporting of accidents by those employed.

More playgrounds to keep school children off the streets.

Elimination of all grades of more than 6 per cent on principal highways and streets.

Inclusion of downtown parking problems in all cities.

Highways wide enough for at least two lines of traffic.

It developed at the conference that automobile insurance rates are being fixed on a basis of 30,000 deaths in about 1,000,000 accidents. But, according to Professor S. H. Huebner of the University of Pennsylvania, chairman of the insurance committee, American motorists can cut their insurance rates in succeeding years by reducing the annual number of automobile accidents.

If the present conference is successful in promoting caution and reducing accidents, insurance companies will guide themselves accordingly, Huebner said. Insurance companies will be asked by the conference to undertake a comprehensive campaign to promote observance of ordinary rules of caution.

A proposal for general betterment in the systems of accident reporting and investigation and in the compilation of statistics was included in the program.

TO ABANDON GRAFTON SITE

Water Supply Insufficient, the Special Commission Finds.

Cleveland, Dec. 17.—According to Senator George H. Bender, chairman of a commission appointed by Governor Donahey to look over the land, the 1,158 acres of land bought by the state as a site for a hospital for the insane at Grafton, near Elyria, will be abandoned.

Decision to pass up the site for hospital purposes was reached after John Youngblood, chief engineer for the state welfare department, reported to the commission that a sufficient water supply could not be had at Grafton and the cost of pumping water would be exorbitant. The land, bought under the Harry L. Davis administration, cost the state an average of $172.50 an acre. A commission appointed by Governor Donahey to find means of relieving conditions in Cleveland state hospital for the insane, will recommend to the governor that cottages be erected at once on the Hawthorne tract, eight miles south of Newburg. They will suggest that the cottages be sufficient in number to accommodate 1,500 patients now jammed in the Newburg institution.

Negro Burglar Killed. Cincinnati, Dec. 17.—A negro burglar was shot and killed and four negro men were arrested by two city patrolmen after a chase on foot and by automobile. The body of the dead man has not been identified. His companions told police that he was a stranger to them.

Nickel Plate railroad's October report to the interstate commerce commission shows an increase of $642,690 in net railway operating income over the corresponding month last year.

FOR HIGHWAY JOBS

Civil Service Examinations to Be Held Jan. 6 to 16.

Columbus, Dec. 17.—The annual state civil service commission examinations for applicants for appointment to positions in the state highway department as highway superintendents, laborers in charge, inspectors and assistant engineers will be held Jan. 6 to 16.

The first of these examinations for superintendents, laborers in charge and assistant engineers will be held Jan. 6 in Columbus, Cleveland, Toledo and Cincinnati. On Jan. 7 examinations will be held in the same cities for highway inspectors. On Jan. 8 examinations will be held for superintendents and laborers in charge and assistant engineers in Lima, Canton, Portsmouth and Bucyrus, while on Jan. 9 examinations will be conducted in the same cities for highway inspectors. On Jan. 13 examinations for superintendents, laborers in charge and assistant engineers will be conducted in the same cities for inspectors will be conducted Jan. 14. On Jan. 15 the commission will hold examinations in Steubenville, Zanesville, Gallipolis and Chillicothe for superintendents, laborers in charge and assistant engineers, while the final day of the examinations, Jan. 16, applicants for inspectors will be examined in the four last named cities.

NEWSPAPER WINS

Government Loses Third Test Suit in Income Tax Case.

Baltimore, Dec. 17.—The demurrer by the Baltimore Post in its income tax suit for publishing income tax returns was sustained by United States Judge Soper. The court has ruled under advisement since the case was argued. When arguments were presented by United States Attorney Woodcock and Newton D. Baker, general counsel for the Scripps-Howard newspapers. The Baltimore Post was the first newspaper indicted for income tax publicity, but two others, the New York Herald-Tribune and the Kansas City Journal-Post, already have won verdicts. All were test cases designed for eventual decision by the United States supreme court.

Soldiers Mutinied.

Pekin, Dec. 17.—Chinese soldiers mutinied at Kalgan during the absence of their commanders, burned three business blocks and plundered stores, the postoffice and banks. Several American firms, including the Standard Oil company and Liggett & Myers, were heavy losers. Several Chinese were shot.

Jewelry Store Looted.

New York, Dec. 17.—Goods valued at $50,000 were stolen by three men who looted the jewelry store of Abraham J. Bluming. The bandits bound Bluming, his wife and his brother.

COLUMBUS DIDN'T DISCOVER AMERICA

Descendant Gives Credit to Another.

Toronto, Ont.—Christopher Columbus did not discover America.

So says the duke of Alba, who perhaps better than anyone else alive today ought to know, for he is the eighteenth direct descendant of Columbus.

When the duke recently crossed Canada he was accompanied by Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance, a full-blooded Indian. To the chief the duke made his revelation about the false fame which, he says, attaches to the name of his distinguished ancestor. The chief tells about it in the following language:

"One night, following a dinner aboard the duke of Alba's dinner in which he had bombarded me with his usual barrage of questions on western Canada, I said to him:

"I want to know something about Columbus. You have all of his personal records, and you must have something about him that no other person has."

"The only fact that I have that is not included in school histories," he replied, "is the fact that Columbus did not discover America. I am including this in my latest historical work."

Visits Wrecked Caravel.

"Columbus was a poor, happy-go-lucky chap, with not the least idea of becoming an explorer until he struck upon that idea by the merest accident. At the age of forty he was living among the poor in the town of Funchal, when one day while walking along the beach he saw a wrecked caravel floating in from the sea. He found a dying man. Columbus made strenuous efforts to revive the man, but he recovered only sufficiently to say that he had been captain of a crew of sixteen that had gone out to sea on that caravel many months before. On the return journey some strange malady had struck them, and they had all died except himself. The man added:

"We were returning with a great secret. We found another land with strange people on it far across this sea."

"Columbus went straight to the queen of Castile and the king of Aragon—who later married and caused the unification of Spain—and asked for a commission to raise a body of men for a foreign expedition. Only to the king and the queen did he divulge what the dying captain had told him. He further asked for financial assistance. The king of Aragon made him a substantial grant, as did Martin Pinthen, a wealthy Spaniard, after whom Columbus named one of his ships, La Pinta.

Three Ships Purchased.

"With the money he had raised Columbus bought three ships, the La Nina, La Pinta and Santa Maria, and started out on his strange voyage. Your own history tells you the rest.

"Upon his return to Spain he wrote considerable data concerning the North American aborigines. He said of them: 'The Indians are a gentle people, without knowing what evil is, without killing, without stealing.'

"Following his discovery of America, if discovery it could be called, Columbus never became wealthy nor titled. He died 14 years later—in 1506—a man of fifty-five years of age in moderate circumstances. No one ever knew much about him. All he ever said of himself when questioned, was: 'I am a wanderer; born in Genoa, Italy.' It is generally believed, however, that he was a Jew."

Egyptians Had Pocket Flasks 3,299 Years Ago

London.—Prohibition may or may not have been in effect 3,299 years ago, but recent gifts to the British museum indicate the ancient Egyptians were at least affected by a thirst for something stronger than 2.75 per cent beer.

One of the gifts is a pottery pocket flask, similar in shape to those exhibited in the windows of many jewelers today and of sufficiently large capacity to gratify the most thirsty. The other consists of fragments of a great vessel upon which is boldly painted the inscription:

"Beer Which Ignores Dreams." The inscription, in the form of early hieroglyphics, depicts a jar, with three strokes to indicate a number of jars; then the symbol for "ignores"—an owl representing knowledge and a pair of hands turned down to denote "nothing doing"—a chicken, denoting sound, and an eye, denoting wakefulness. Officials of the museum vouch for the translation of the devices.

Other archeological finds have indicated, according to museum officials, that beer was the great beverage of the Egyptians 3,000 years ago.

CHRISTMAS TREE

Committee Asks Cooperation of All to Gladden Hearts of Little Ones

None in the community has forgotten the Community Christmas Tree of last year. It has left its impress on the community. Already plans are under way for a similar celebration this year and the committee expects that with the hearty cooperation that was found last year it will be possible to continue our Christmas tradition this year. Already various organizations are cooperating, the tree, the lighting, the hauling, the decoration all being looked after now. It remains for the others of us in the community to provide the oranges, candy, nuts-dolls and toys necessary to make every child happy. It will not take a large sum; it will take only goodwill. The headquarters for receiving these things, especially the toys, have been located at Hamilton & Ryan's drug store and at Fickard's drug store. Look up your toys. If you have some that have served their usefulness to you pass them on to another. If you are not so fortunate as to have a toy in the house go and have the pleasure of getting one for some child that will look forward to this season as the great event of the year.

In addition to the two headquarters in the center of town there will be placed in each grocery of the outlying districts of town a Christmas tree jar to receive contributions of whatever size. We want even the children to have a part in making the celebration possible. It is a community affair. Let everyone help make it a success. 11dec23.

Power of Music.

Music is an art distinct and self-sufficient. It represents the harmony of that interior truth which all art seeks to reveal, and whose beauty and grace appear in painting and sculpture. The interpreters of that harmony are sounds, which are related to music as colors to painting, and the fullest expression is given to them by instrumental combination. The human voice in respect of the art is valuable as an instrument, and in suppleness may exceed mechanical contrivances; wherefore one readily understands why a mighty chorus is introduced in the finale of the grandest symphony, that the whole effect may be duly crowned, and the appeal to the heart be assured by the union of human sounds. But with such an effort words have nothing to do.—G. W. Curtis.

Bars Up Against Ants.

The common glass insulators used on telegraph poles can be made to keep a refrigerator free of ants and other insects by placing them under the legs of the refrigerator and filling the interior with kerosene or similar material.

THE EARLY NEWSPAPER

London Times Was First Printed by Steam Power 110 Years Ago.

In Those Days There Were No Trains to Catch, No Cables, Telegraph or Telephone—News Was Slow in Coming but Nobody Missed It.

One hundred and ten years ago appeared the first issue of the Times in London, printed by steam. It was a great experiment, the result of many preliminary experiments, made in face of such obstacles, human and inert, as often attend a signal departure. The modern newspaper, on a scale of production to meet public demand, may be said to have begun on November 29, 1814.

Nobody could have guessed at the future development of which this was the starting point; but they have been more than sufficient to give the century of steam printing an unlimited interest. Ten years ago however, the world was so exclusively occupied with the waging of war that this victory of peace had to be passed over.

The following extracts from the article by which it was announced, in that issue of 1814, will convey some idea of how it must have struck contemporary readers:

"Our journal of this day presents to the public the practical result of the greatest improvement connected with printing since the discovery of the art itself. The reader of this paragraph now holds in his hand one of the many thousand impressions of the Times, which were taken off last night by a mechanical apparatus. A system of machinery, almost organic, has been devised and arranged which, while it relieves the human frame of its laborious efforts in printing, far exceeds all human powers in rapidity and dispatch.

"Of the person who made this discovery we have but little to add. It must suffice to say further, that he is a Saxon by birth, that his name is Koenig, and that the invention has been executed under the direction of his friend and countryman, Bauer."

Frederick Koenig was the son of a small farmer in Prussian Saxony. He had patented a steam press in 1810, and added improvements in 1811 and 1813.

The chief feature of Koenig's invention was the introduction of a cylinder to give the impression from type placed on a flat bed. The cylindrical principle had been involved in the schemes of William Nicholson (1753-1715), who in 1790 took out a patent for improvements in printing. But Nicholson, described as "a well-known author and unsuccessful projector," suffered from technical ignorance. His ideas suggested to others what his hand could not complete for himself. Koenig was the practical man to whom Nicholson not only offered help but against whose claim to the invention he never protested.

What Koenig's press meant to newspapers may be realized by a comparison with former conditions. The Times in 1814 was still a paper of four pages. There were no trains to catch and, therefore, one of the most pressing exigencies of modern days had not to be considered. Cables, telegrams and telephones had yet to start on their beneficent—and harrowing—ministration. News was slow in coming, and if it did not come nobody missed it. If London demanded The Times on its breakfast table, the country was more tolerant, and could wait for the paper with a patience proportionate to that with which the paper had to wait for its messages from home and abroad.

Research Work Pays

There is at least one textile mill in America which has continued to run at capacity. It has experienced no season of slack orders and it has made no reduction in its scientific staff. The president of this mill tells us that this success has been due to the fact that his scientists by continued research have kept his mill four or five years ahead of the procession. He is producing materials that have no competition. He is offering uniquely dyed fabrics which are in a class by themselves, and when there is a buyers' market, a mill in this position has an unusual advantage. The president of this mill proposes to increase research, for he knows he cannot possibly afford to curtail it.—Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry.

WATER WORKS

Proposition of Purchase Discussed at Chamber of Commerce Meeting.

At the chamber of commerce Tuesday evening that body went on record against adopting the Twentieth Amendment, known as Child Labor amendment and will so instruct the members of the legislature.

The question of buying the Pickaway Water company came up for discussion. "Someone is trying to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery" said the acting chairman, vice president, Lee T. Shaner, "by calling the water works 'junk' and that the people before voting ought to inform themselves to the real condition of the plant.

Frank A. Marion, another member of council, said that people are prone to jump at conclusions without investigating. This body has appointed a competent committee to investigate and report the condition of the Water company; a thorough report will be made by this committee and that he is willing to await this report. It does seem queer that a company like the present Water company would let the plant go down to junk. People who spread such reports do the company an injustice by spreading such false reports. He also said that he is glad Mr. Shaner mentioned the fact.

R. L. Brehmer, H. G. Stevenson and George E. Hammel were the other speakers pro and con on the subject of having municipal owned water works.

Two Girls Hit by Truck.

Cleveland, Dec. 17.—Miss Virginia Castle, 17, of Lorain, was killed and Miss Katherine Orshric, 20, of Cleveland, internally injured when a truck hit the two young women in Public square. The two girls, Christmas shoppers, were standing in a safety zone when the traffic sign turned north and south. A truck driven by John Masavage of Cleveland, started south. The two girls ran in front of it, police said. Miss Castle was knocked down, and the two-ton truck passed over her head. Miss Orshric was knocked down also, but rolled out of the path of the truck.

Magnus to Contest Election.

Washington, Dec. 17.—Senator Magnus Johnson of Minnesota will contest the election of Thomas D. Schall, senator-elect, on the ground that Schall's campaign was conducted in violation of the corrupt practices act, a statement issued from Johnson's office declared. Senator Johnson is now in Minnesota.

Dry Agent Found Guilty.

New Lexington, O., Dec. 17.—A. H. Fouts, former state prohibition officer, was found guilty here by a jury in common pleas court of impersonating an officer, it being charged that Fouts continued making arrests and raids after his card was revoked. Sentence was withheld pending application for a new trial.

Attempt to Escape.

Cleveland, Dec. 17.—Six prisoners at Warrensville workhouse sawed two steel bars from a cell door in a futile attempt to escape. The prisoners were in two cells and were preparing to escape during the night by overpowering the guard, Walsh said. They were turned back by guards.

Giant Skyscraper Planned.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—The "Temple of Agriculture," a $20,000,000 skyscraper project, greater than any now in existence, will be a reality here within a few years, Lawrence Whiting, president of Whiting & Company, securities house, announced. Men identified with it include former Governor Frank O. Lowden and William Wrigley, Jr., "chewing gum king." The building is to be erected at Michigan boulevard on the river, near the Wrigley and Tribune buildings, and will contain 2,500,000 square feet of floor space.

Salaries to Be Restored.

Cleveland, Dec. 17.—Two thousand city employees, whose salaries were cut by Mayor Fred Kohler during his administration, are to have their salaries restored, it was announced by Councilman Liston G. Schooley, chairman of the city council finance committee.

Burns Prove Fatal.

St. Clairsville, O., Dec. 17.—Explosion of a liquid being used by Mrs. Mike Digs in cleaning a stove at her home in Barton, this county, caused burns that proved fatal to her 3-year-old son Francis.

Both Found Guilty.

Cleveland, Dec. 17.—Sol Peskind and Ben Karp, former officers of the collapsed Municipal Savings and Loan company, were found guilty of misapplying funds of the defunct company. Both Peskind and Karp, jointly tried in two previous loan cases, were convicted in each.

Change the Gears!

Charles' uncle was a tall man, and one day when he had Charles out for a walk he forgot the length of a child's step, and poor Charles was almost running to keep up. They came to a rise in the grade of the walk and Charles stopped and said: "O, uncle, please change into low; I just can't make it on high."

AMUSEMENTS

It is quite evident that there was no serious intent behind the production of "Changing Husbands" the new Paramount picture that opened at the Met theater last night. It was made entirely in the comedy vein for laughing purposes only. And yet we have a feeling that every girl who is married is going to get excited over this photoplay because it deals with a fundamental feminine problem, the question of getting the most out of life whether as a wife or in pursuit of a career.

Adapted by Sada Cowan and Howard Higgin from the Saturday Evening Post story, "Roles" by Elizabeth Alexander, "Changing Husbands" unfolds the tale of a rich young wife, eager for a career, who secretly changes places with an actress who resembles her. The husband, none the wiser, falls passionately in love with the actress. The wife loses her heart to the fiancée of the actress. Here then is a situation that leads to all sorts of complications to the embarrassment of the characters involved but which the audience finds hugely entertaining. As a matter of fact the plot is replete with so many surprising developments and unexpected turns, so crowded with incident and action that you'll want to keep your eyes glued to the screen for fear of missing something.

Leatrice Joy, who enacts the dual role of the rich wife and her double, the actress, rises to heights never before reached in any of her former screenplays. All of the delightful personality of this talented artist is brought to the fore, and it is difficult to choose between her portrayal of the society matron and her characterization of the actress. Victor Varconi, Raymond Griffith, ZaSu Pitts, Julia Faye, Helen Dunbar and William Boyd make up the excellent supporting cast. Frank Urson and Paul Iribe, as associate directors, produced the picture and Cecil B. DeMille personally supervised it.

Make it your business to see "Changing Husbands" if you are in need of a laugh tonic.

A new dress from Friedman's will be appreciated. January prices now. 15dec23.

Keep Mentally Alert.

When all's said and done you're worth what's under your hood. Become mentally inert and you stagnate. Allow the "isms" and the "ifs" of the times to flood your mental cariburetor and you'll choke the engine on the most crowded corner. The man who succeeds must keep everlastingly fit. He must constantly care for what's under the hood. Many a time he'll have to do what he doesn't want to do. But doing that well only makes a man of him. Small fry never do anything except what pleases. Men of big mold do many things distasteful to them to help others. In the end they're happier for it. So be a man of progress. Pay attention to what's under the hood and keep the mental machinery well tuned to its task.—Grit.

MEMORY EXPERT

Robert H. Thompson Gave Interesting Address at Parish House.

Robert H. Thompson, of New York City, the memory expert, addressed a goodly sized audience at the Parish house Tuesday evening.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. Cruik, and D. F. Bringham, with the M. M. Bellings Furniture, Chillicothe.

His talk proved that most any person can improve his faculty of remembering events of the day by the simple system of association. We are mentally lazy, we don't try to remember things. It's a happy-go-lucky life we lead, and we seem to be satisfied to go along, day by day, without improving this most valuable gift given us by nature. Civilization was not attained in a day; it has taken centuries to arrive where we are today and hundreds of years will elapse before we reach perfect knowledge of things earthly.

Will power is one of the things that goes to make a person worth while; 98 per cent of personality is will power and without it, you will get nowhere.

Think for yourself, be natural. The greatest men of our day and in the past are people who are natural, that's why they have a personality different from their fellowmen.

Mental images, attention and association of ideas, were dwelt upon by the speaker. He had his audience look on the floor for five minutes while he named fifteen objects, associating them with numbers, and as an example of memory called upon several in the audience to name these objects. Charles T. Gilmore, Howard Orr and Karl Herrman, successfully repeated the names associating them with the correct numbers perfectly.

These same articles were added to, with other objects and the audience was called upon to repeat from memory, what they were. The speaker proved conclusively that he had the attention of his audience and it showed how comprehensive is his system of memory association. During the latter part of his lecture, he gave other wonderful examples of memory study which are all very simple, if you follow his system.

NEW ORCHESTRA TRYOUT.

Dance lovers will have the opportunity Saturday night of stepping out to the newest thing in dance music, furnished by the famous Scarlet & Grey orchestra, at the C. A. C. jitney dance.

This orchestra is a nine piece organization of O. S. U. students and former students who have earned a big reputation playing for fraternity dances and dances at Columbus hotels especially at The Virginia. They are said to be the last word in dispensers of popular dance music and all dance lovers should be on hand Saturday night.

The success of the dance this week will have much to do with the future policy of the club's dance committee. So if you desire to continue the weekly dances show your desire by being among those present.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE.

Hamilton & Ryan's, Fickardt and Prose's drug stores have been selected as receiving stations for gifts for the community Christmas tree. Money candy, nuts and oranges, toys of any kind, new ones or if you may have some discarded ones stored away, which could be repaired and painted. We will repair them, bring them in. If the girls who will who will solicit donations miss you leave your donation at the above drug stores. Help make the community Christmas tree celebration a success. 8dec24

CLUB WORKERS

Washington Township Farm Bureau
Elected Officers for Year.

Seventy-five Washington township people attended the Local Farm Bureau meeting at Washington school Tuesday evening. The Busy Bee Club and Willing Workers Clothing Clubs entertained the audience for a solid hour. All the girls sang the Ohio club song and surely put a lot of pep into it. Cleo Bowman gave a vocal solo following which Marvina Leist told a few jokes. Mary Frazier and Priscilla Trimmer told of their experiences during club week at the university. They surely had a real educational and entertaining week. Bernice Drum gave a very beautiful selection on the piano and Alma and Dorothy Glick played a piano duet then another by request. Priscilla Trimmer read her Food club story from her record book. Bernice Drum and Priscilla Trimmer demonstrated the drafting of a kimono pattern. Mrs. E. E. Meyers gave a very interesting talk on Club Work and told of her appreciation of what the girls had done.

The Certificates of Achievement for successful completion of one year's work were presented by County Agent J. D. Bragg.

Harry J. Briggs the Farm Bureau service man gave a short Marketing talk and answered several questions concerning shipping activities. Mr. Briggs announced the Livestock Grading demonstration to be held at the Pennsylvania stock pens, Tuesday, December 16, at 9:30 a. m.

The election of officers followed and the following officers were elected; President, G. M. Wertman; vice president, D. C. Leist; secretary, Clay Hiler; treasurer, Noah Bolender; purchasing agent, Albert Leist.

Refreshments were served which were enjoyed by all, especially the kiddies and G. M. Wertman.

Sea Level.

Sea level in the scientific sense means theoretical mean or average from which elevations or depressions on the earth are calculated. The coast and geodetic survey, which is government authority on such subjects, says: "Mean sea level may be defined as the surface which would be assumed by the water of the oceans at rest if there were no action by the wind or by the tides due to the attraction of the moon and sun. The sea level surface is at all points at right angles to a free-surface plumb line."

Mirror History.

In the early part of the sixteenth century mirrors first became articles of household furniture and decoration. Previous to that time—from the twelfth to the end of the fifteenth century—pocket mirrors or small hand mirrors, carried at the girdle, were adjuncts to ladies' toilettes. The pocket mirrors consisted of small circular plaques of polished metal fixed in a shallow circular box covered with a lid.

BENZOL GAS

“The King of Motor Fuel”

You'll Have No Trouble

Starting on Cool Days

If sluggish, slow to ignite gasoline has been giving you trouble in starting on these cool mornings, try a change to Benzol Gas and see the difference it makes.

Try Benzol Gas, too, when you're driving among the hills and let your speedometer tell you how many more miles it gives per gallon than gasoline.

Benzol Gas also eliminates motor knocks that are so common when gasoline fills the tank. Hard carbon is banished by the use of this superior motor fuel.

Benzol Gas makes friends that stick. The motorist who uses it once usually comes back for more.

You can't possibly have gotten the best out of your car unless you have tried it.

But—Be sure to ask for the original Caldwell & Taylor Benzol Gas.

CHRISTMAS GARLANDS

On Christmas eve a slender boy
Came singing in the snow,
His arms were filled with holly wreaths
And sprays of mistletoe.
The curls about his forehead formed
A golden diadem.
His sapphire eyes reflected still
The Star of Bethlehem.

He pointed to the Christmas wreaths,
Bejeweled red and white,
His voice rang out like silver bells
Upon the frosty night;
"These scarlet berries are the drops
Of blood that Jesus shed;
These pearls upon the mistletoe
Are Mary's tears," he said.

MOTHS! MOTHS!

What are they? Most people know but do you know? A solution for the protection of your clothes during the time they are not in use? You no doubt have noticed that moths will not work just in one spot but will eat a little here and there that is proof that there is something there they like. A sure prevention is to have your clothing thoroughly cleaned that destroys all moths; even the eggs or other germs that may be in the garment then pack them or hang them in a moth proof bag which we furnish free with each suit, coat or overcoat

MILK PRODUCERS

Cream Can be Marketed With Savings to the Farmers.

Members of the Pickaway County
Local of the Scioto Valley Cooperative Milk Producers' association, packed the Farm Bureau office Friday afternoon, December 12, at the first annual meeting of the association.

Vice President Archie Peters told of the achievements of the association and how dividends could be doubled or tripled by each member signing up a new member and by telling those neighbors not present what happened at the meeting. He also analyzed the financial statement with the members.
Mr. E. C. Rector, president of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau gave a short talk on the affiliation of the Cream association with the Farm Bureau and how the Farm Bureau is serving the commodity organizations that it has organized and what the bureau is doing and can do for the farmers of the county.

Charles Radcliff, the cream station manager made a few remarks, telling the patrons that they get paid every pound of cream that they send and every pound of butterfat that is in it, for he is hired by them and no one ever told him to keep the test down, but on the contrary to give the patrons
just what is coming to them.

The board of directors, who have been serving for the last six months were unanimously reelected for the coming year. The board of directors were also made advisory councilmen.
A rebate amounting to $691.26 was paid to the members. This represents one cent per pound on all butterfat operation of this association.

CLOVER PAYS BEST

SAYS FARM MANAGER.

"Red clover seed seems high in price, but it will not pay to substitute timothy for clover," said C. W. Montgomery, chief in farm management at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, in a letter of instruction to the superintendents of the county and district experiment farms of the state asking them to make an inventory of the year's results.

"If timothy is used," he said, "more high priced fertilizer must be purchased; and if the hay is to be fed on the farm, expensive protein feeds must be bought to feed with the hay if best results are obtained.

"However, it will be well to mix some alsike and timothy with the red clover, for most fields are likely to have some acid spots not well suited to red clover, and on these alsike and timothy will make a good covering.

"Alsike clover seed costs less per bushel than red clover and, the seeds being smaller, will go further than red clover or alfalfa seed. It will grow in many places where the other clovers fail. However, alsike makes but one crop, and when harvested leaves the land bare, thus giving weeds a chance to grow.

"Where a legume is wanted mainly for soil improvement, sweet clover is probably the best and the seed is cheaper this year than that of the other clovers."

IN ELKDOM.

The Elks initiated three candidates;
Donald Morris and Loring Hoffman, of this city, and John W. Myers, of Williamsport, Tuesday evening. The initiation was followed by a roast beef luncheon.

COMPENSATION

My married life has not been hard;
We've been a happy pair.
But we have grown much closer since
My wife has bobbed her hair.

I used to mention Mr. Ruth
And she'd say, "Who is that?"
She did not know about home-runs
When Babe went up to bat.

And when I spoke of Dempsey
Or Wills or Jole Ray,
She's like as not ask if he
Were preaching here today.

But now I mention baseball scores
She's on without a flop;
She says, "Oh yes, I read it all Down in the barber-shop."

She scans the pink sheet or the blue
While waiting for the chair;
I know just what to talk about
By looking at her hair.

Some men may miss the locks, and
and curse
The styles of modern age;
I'm glad my wife has bobbed her hair
She reads the sporting page!
